Dear Sir:

I am the Editor, Publisher and sole owner of The National Educator, a monthly newspaper that goes to all 50 states and 14 foreign countries. The paper is highly conservative and I am informed, highly regarded by conservatives in other countries.

I would be interested in exploring the possibility of putting this paper at the disposal of the C.I.A. for important items that might prove of interest to readers in said foreign countries.

In the event you are not interested in this offer, just drop a note saying you have decided not to subscribe at this time. The message would have no meaning to people working in my office and I would consider the matter ended.

Very truly yours,

James H. Townsend
Editor & Publisher

(Retired Army Major)

P.S. I am highly concerned about the Church Committee and where it may lead. The C.I.A. could use some kind words in behalf of their public need to exist.
